

Our Mission

Plants brighten up spaces, boost productivity, and improve overall wellbeing. We believe that the plant-parenting process should do the same. Tuntre helps plant parents advance their skills without taking away the joy of hands-on parenthood. Following these core values, the Tuntre Bottle was designed.

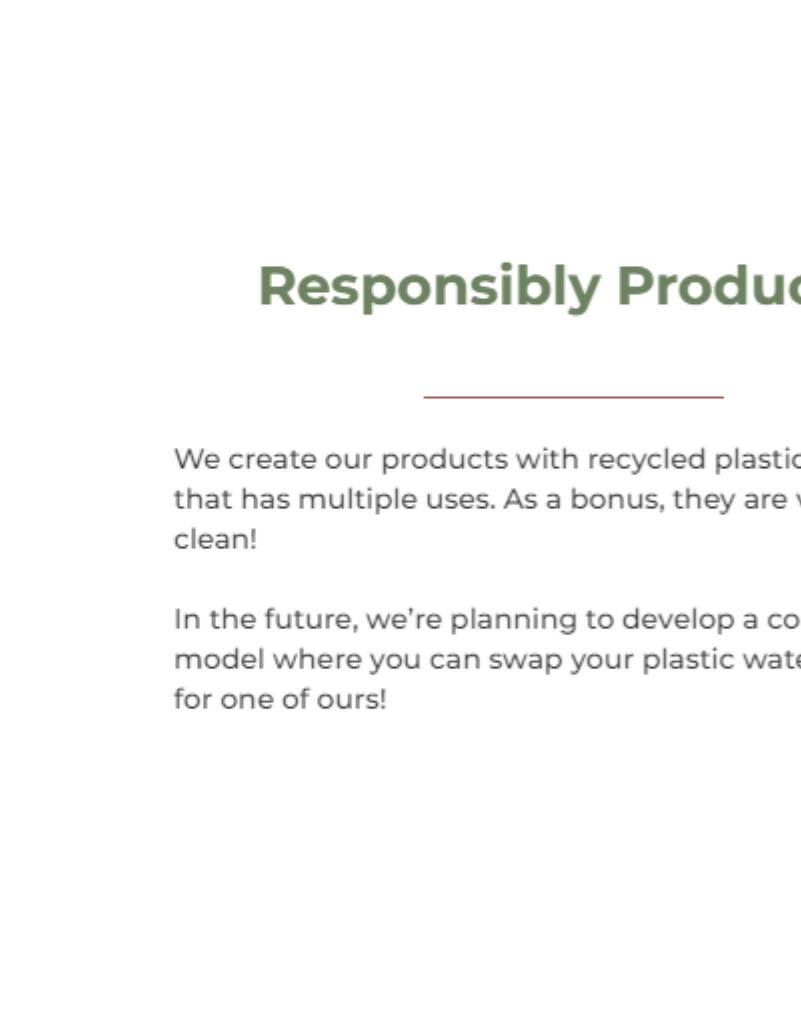

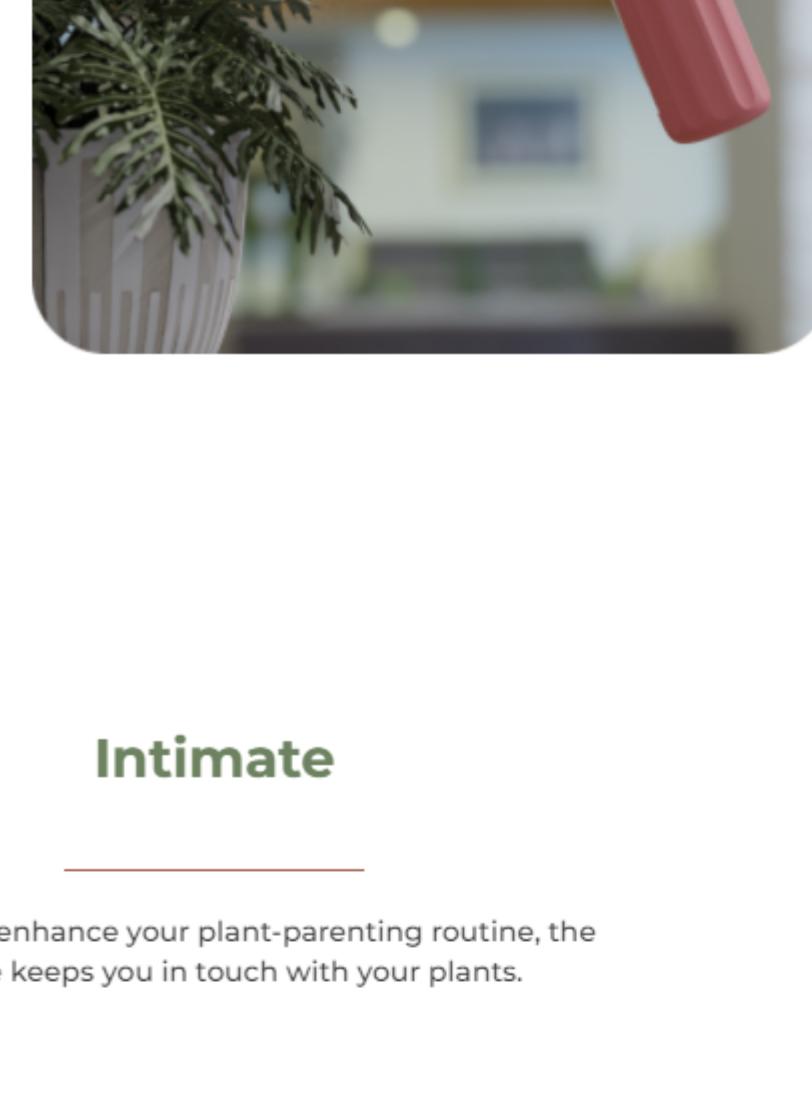

Tidy

Space-efficient and sleek, the Tuntre Bottle helps you stay on top of your plant parenting routine.

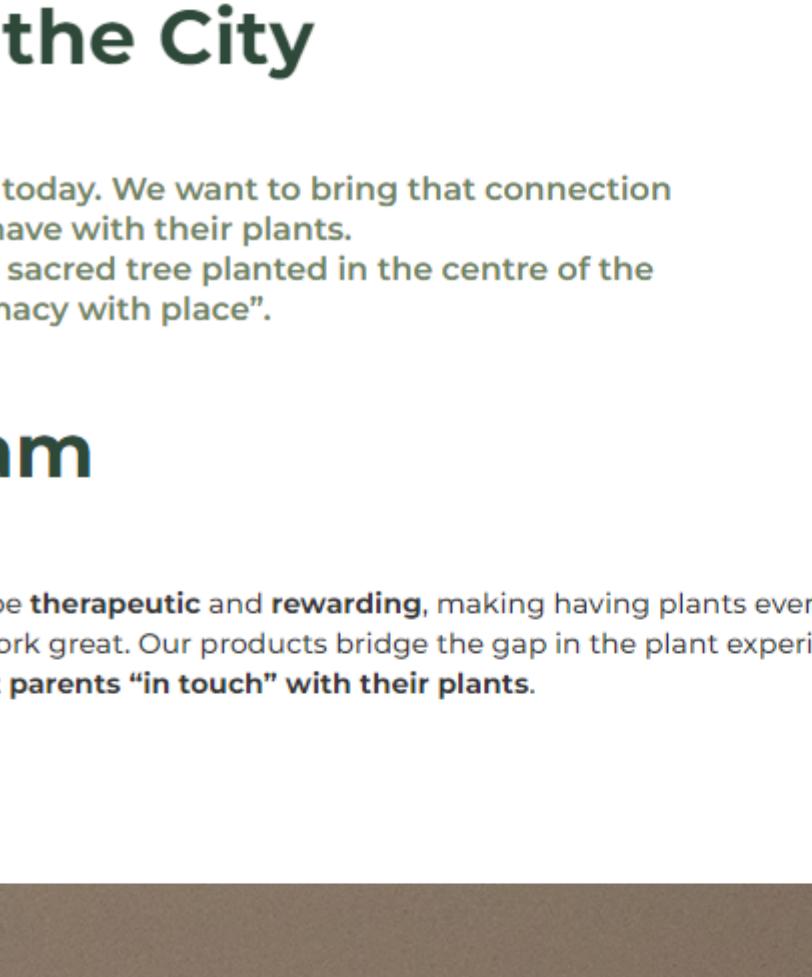

Functional

With sampling, watering, and misting functions, the Tuntre Bottle has all three watering essentials in one.

Intimate

Designed to enhance your plant-parenting routine, the Tuntre Bottle keeps you in touch with your plants.

Responsibly Produced

We create our products with recycled plastic material that has multiple uses. As a bonus, they are very easy to clean!

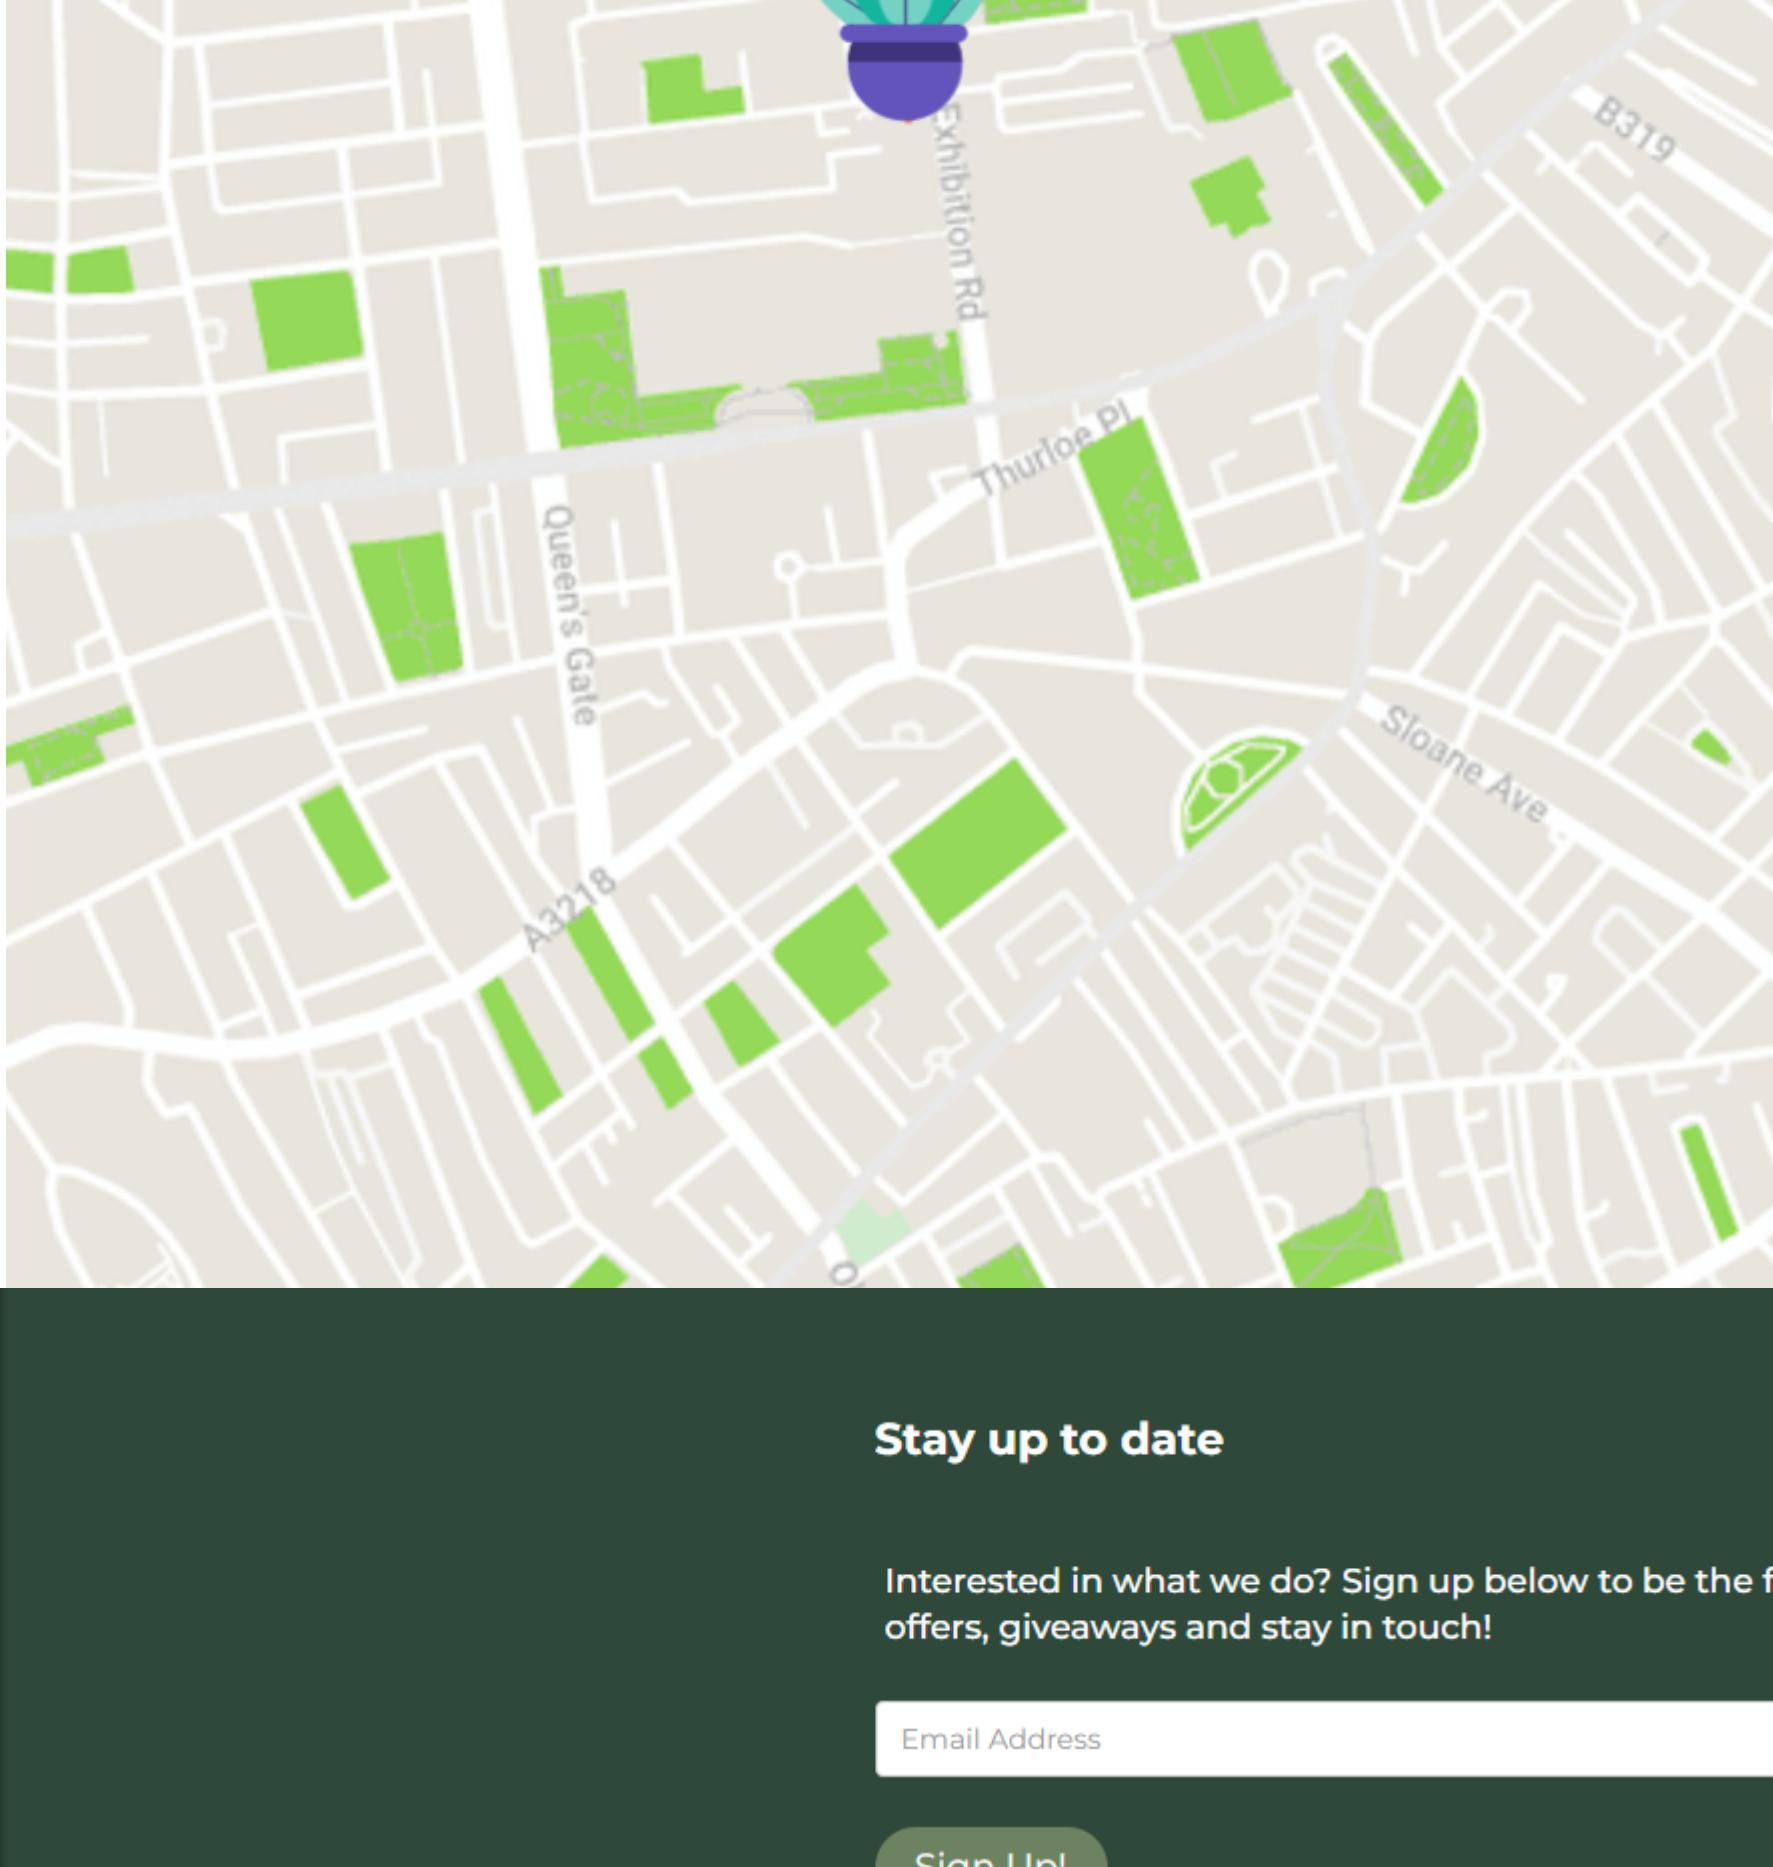

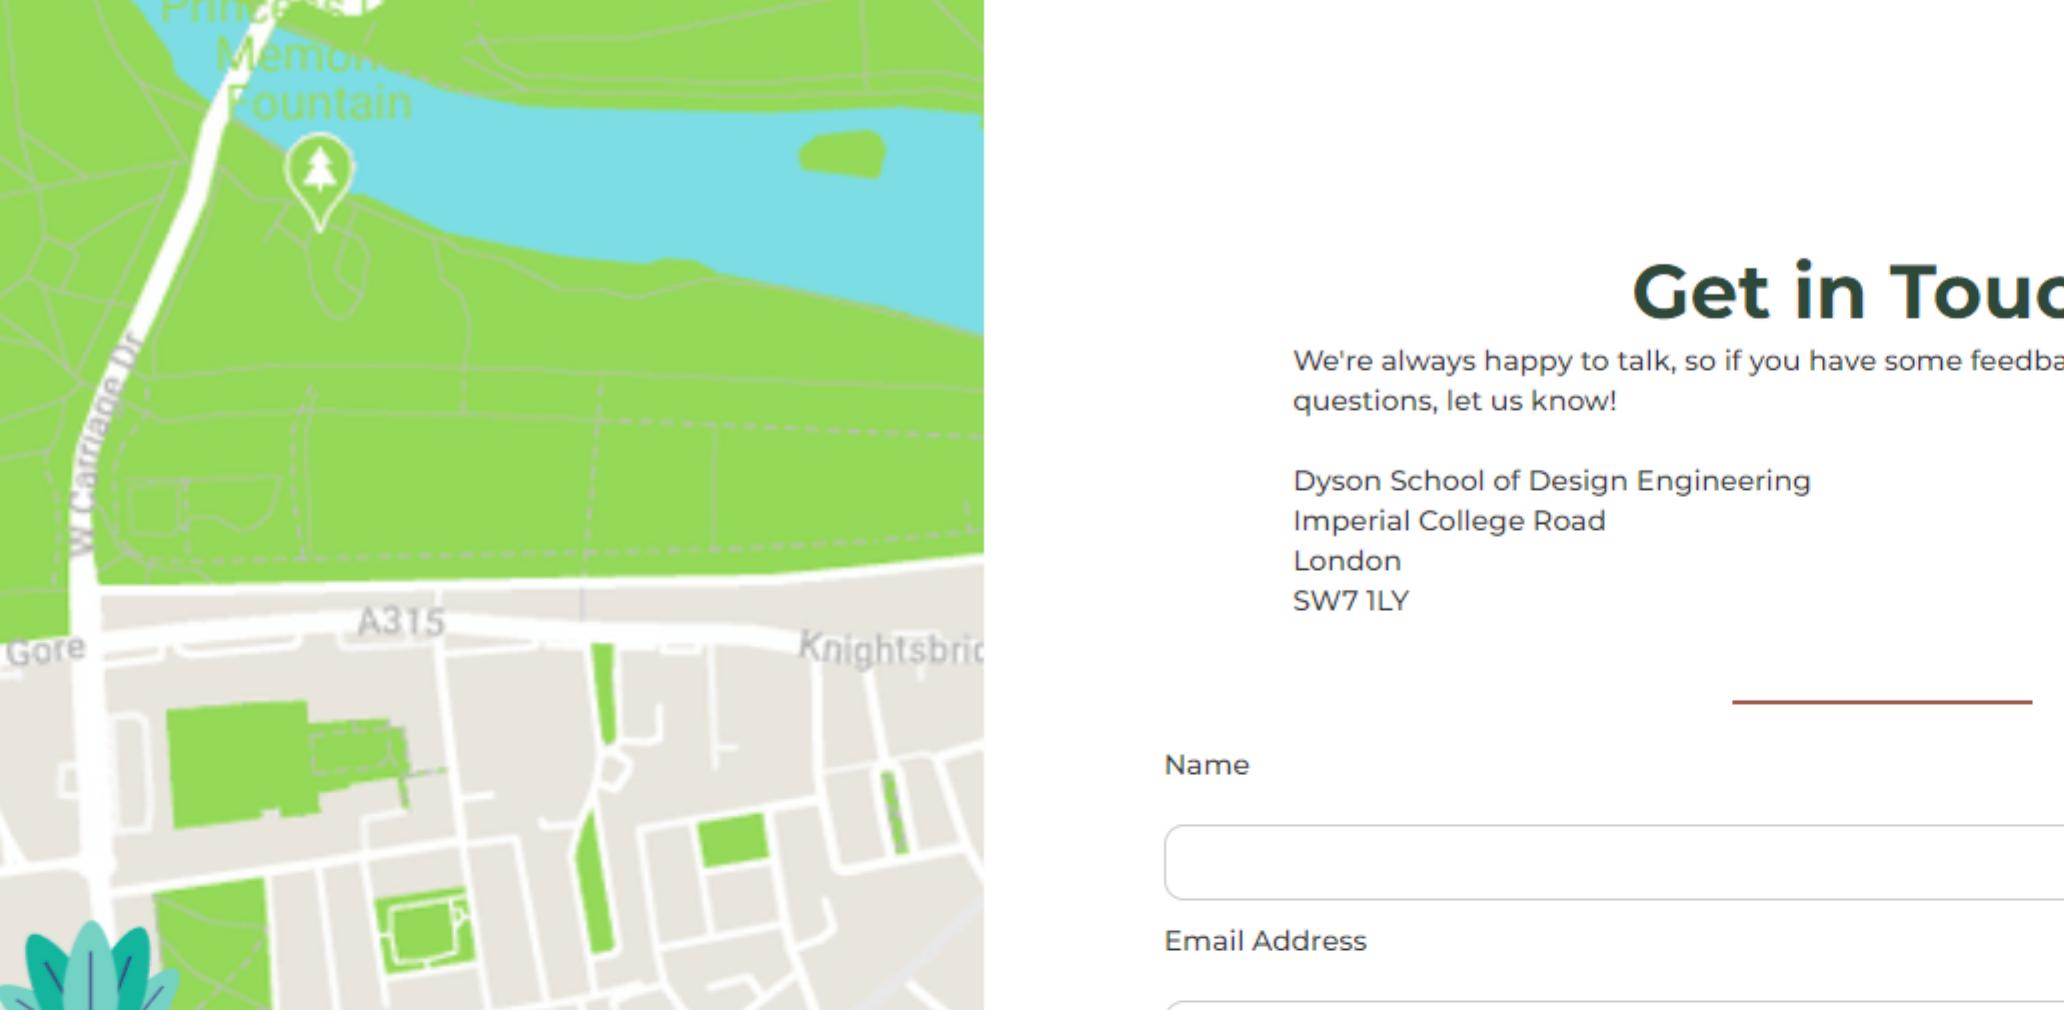

In the future, we're planning to develop a collection model where you can swap your plastic watering cans for one of ours!

Have a "Tuntre" in the City

Our generation of city dwellers has a clear disconnect with nature today. We want to bring that connection back and nurture the relationship people can have with their plants. That's why we're called Tuntre - a Norwegian word that means "a sacred tree planted in the centre of the yard on a family farm that reflects an intimacy with place".

Meet the Team

We believe that the plant parenting process shouldn't make owning plants worse. It should be therapeutic and rewarding, making having plants even better. That's why we founded Tuntre to create beautifully crafted plant tools that look, feel, and work great. Our products bridge the gap in the plant experience, improve plant-parenting skills in an intuitive way, and keep plant parents "in touch" with their plants.

Get in Touch

We're always happy to talk, so if you have some feedback or questions, let us know!

Dyson School of Design Engineering
Imperial College Road
London
SW7 1LY

Name

Email Address

Message

Submit

Stay up to date

Interested in what we do? Sign up below to be the first ones to receive exclusive offers, giveaways and stay in touch!

Sign Up!

Follow us

FAQ

Current Status: Design and Prototyping

We are ensuring that our product is perfect and operations are running smoothly before releasing our product onto the market. We're working hard to perfect each process to ensure our plant parent community benefits from quality products.

Does my plant just need water? ▼

How often will I have to refill the product? ▼

Does it come with seeds or plants? ▼

Do I need to clean the sampler? ▼

What is the material? ▼

How big is the bottle? | ▼

What colours does it come in? ▼

Still have questions? Email us at tuntreplants@gmail.com

Tuntre
For whichever plant parent you are

Our generation of city dwellers has a clear disconnect with nature today. We want to bring that connection back and nurture the relationship people can have with their plants

We believe that the plant parenting process shouldn't make owning plants worse. It should be therapeutic and rewarding, making having plants even better.

tuntre.co.uk

Stay up to date

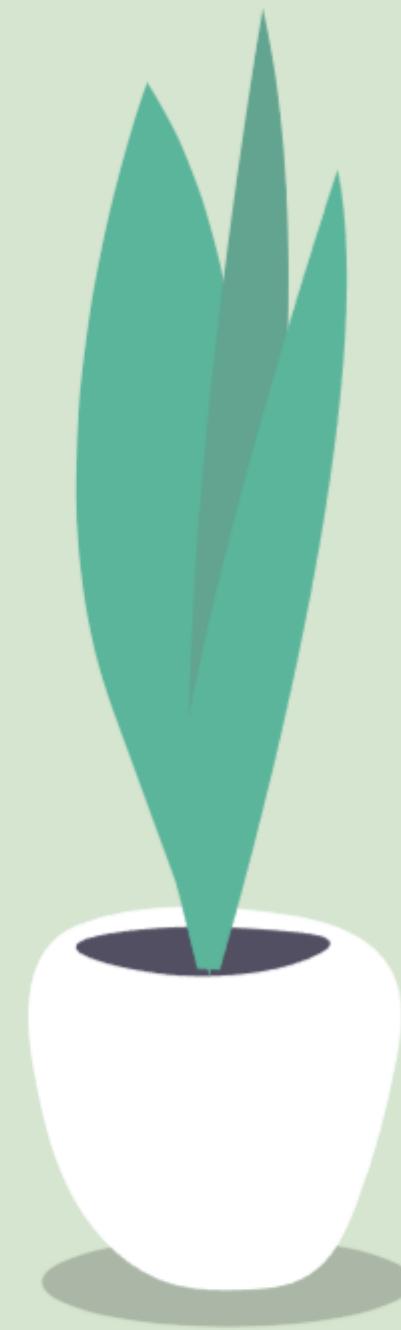

Interested in what we do? Sign up below to be the first ones to receive exclusive offers, giveaways and stay in touch!

Email Address

Sign Up!

Follow us

Tuntre

Investors Area

Password

Enter the password

Submit

